Chapter 30

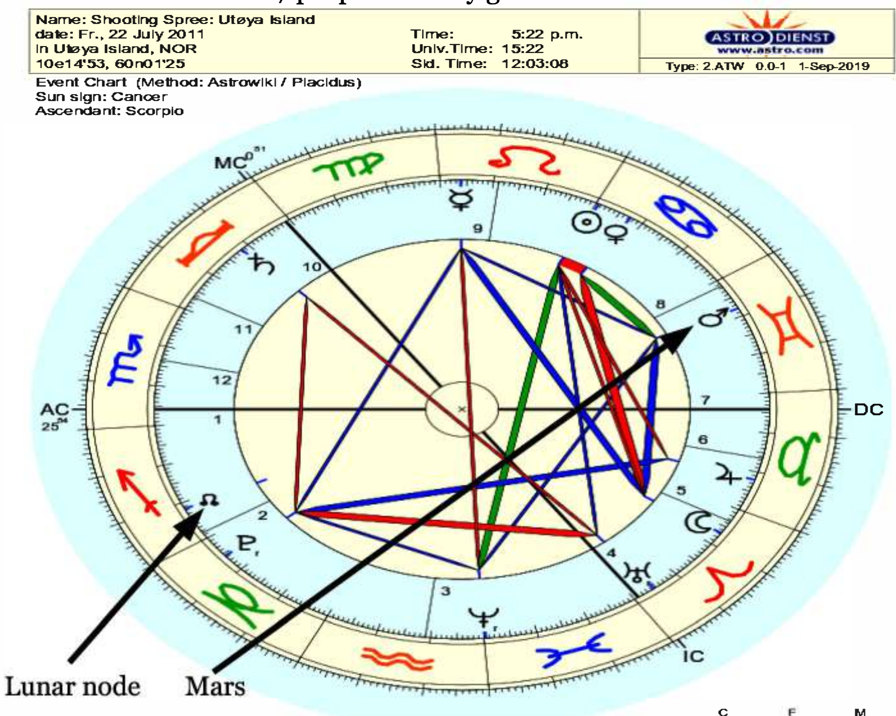

Data for Probability theorists

The following are astrocharts calculated using the exact day, time, and place of the various terror attacks and shooting massacres that have occurred throughout the years. The factor presented here to be taken into observance is Mars within 30 degrees of the lunar node, and the moon within 30 degrees of the lunar node; both as predictors of human violent behavior. This information is intended mainly for probability theorists in France and India, but other scholars around the world can try to formulate an algorithm for the successful prediction of human behavior in regards to violence. Since Mars is within 30 degrees of the lunar node longer than the moon is, Mars's position there would imply a phase, while the moon's position there would imply a sudden event. These examples can be observed in tandem with the astrocharts presented in Chapter 20.

The data on the previous pages taken with the data in chapter 20 concerning violent events results in 2 facts. Based strictly on the data, one can say that when Mars is in the first seal, as shown in chapter 20's examples, there is a high risk of terror attacks, and when the moon is within 30 degrees of the lunar node, no matter where Mars is located,(as shown in this chapter)the same chance of terror arises. In the previous examples in this chapter, we see that when Mars is not in the first seal...and a major terror attack does take place, the moon usually tends to be within 30 degrees of the lunar node

In the initial phase of Mars 360, a system of observation should be implemented and data regarding violent events should be indexed and stored for further study. 2 key observations.

Mars in the first seal (shown in chapter 20)

should be considered a matter of national security. Mars within 30 degrees of the lunar node should be considered a factor that intensifies the effect and the scale of damage from terror attacks arising when Mars's is positioned in the first seal.

On the next page are the same examples given in chapter 20, but with markers for Mars and the Lunar node to show the correlation between Mars in the first seal and the increased intensity of the correlating attacks when Mars shows up there within 30 degrees of the lunar node. The death toll is staggering compared to the death toll of when its Mars in the first seal without being within 30 degrees of the lunar node. In the data on the next pages, roughly 5,500 people were killed when Mars was in the first seal within 30 degrees of the lunar node, compared to around 300 being killed when Mars was in the first seal but NOT within 30 degrees of the lunar node. See the next page to observe.

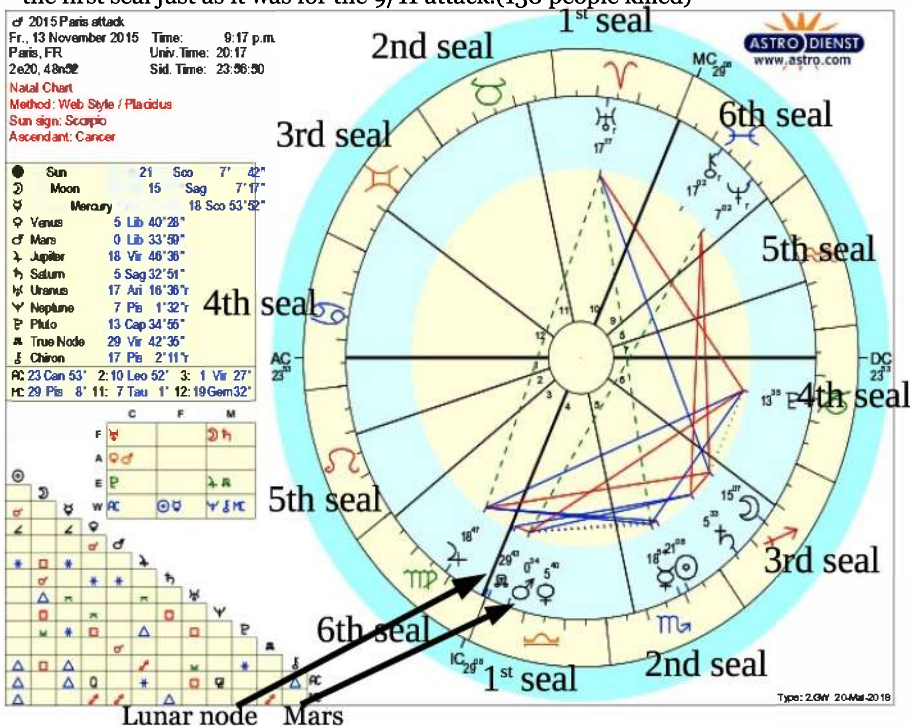

This is the chart calculated for the time the 9/11 attacks took place. Notice Mars in the 1st seal (2,996 people killed)

Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941. Mars again 1n the 1st seal(2,335 killed)

This is chart for the St. Petersburg metro attack that took place in 2017. Notice Mars sitting in the first seal during a transition phase at the Ascendant. It can still be interpreted for the previous placement.(15 killed)

This is the chart for the attack that took place in Nice, France in 2016. Mars is in the first seal, overhead. At 24 degrees, its transitioning but still qualifies for influence in the 1st seal(86 killed)

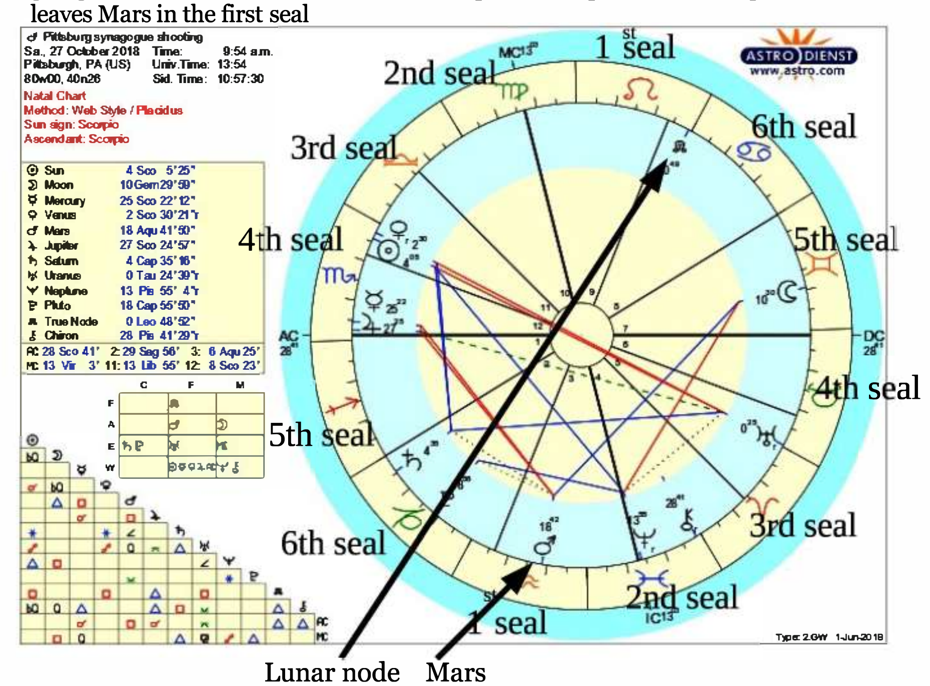

This is the chart for the Columbine attack that took place in 1999 when 2 kids at a high school opened fire on their classmates(13 killed)

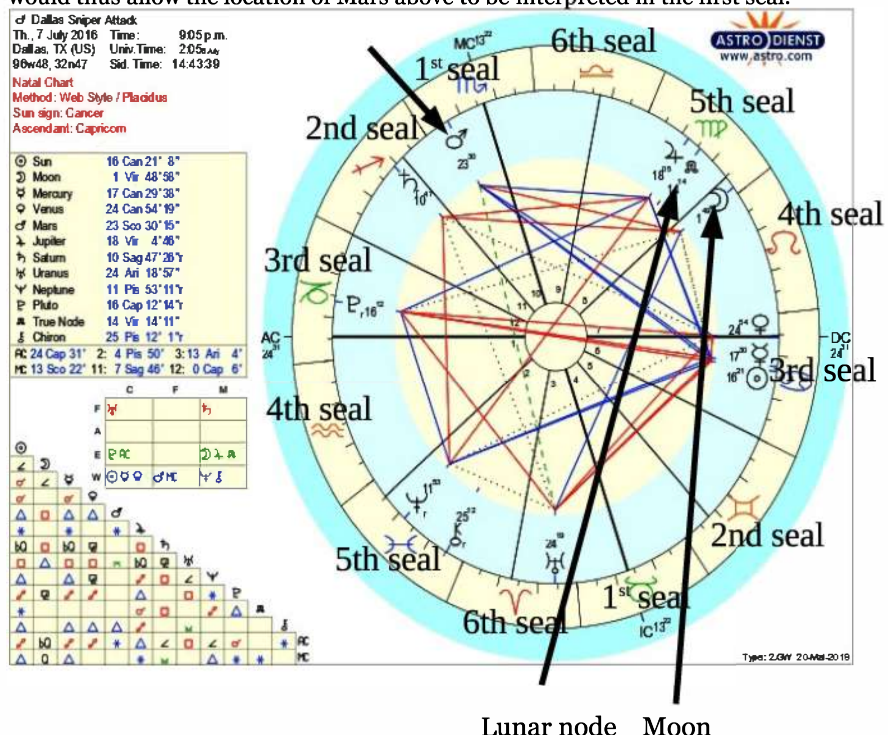

This is the chart for a mass shooting that took place at a Municipal Building in Virginia Beach, VA on May 31, 2019. 12 people were killed. The attacker was a disgruntled employee.

This is the chart for a mass shooting that took place at a synagogue in Pittsburgh, PA on October 27, 2018. 11 people were killed. There is transition going on at the Ascendant, but we can interpret for its position in Scorpio, which leaves Mars in the first seal

This is the chart for a terror attack that took place in Dallas, Texas in July of 2016 where man shot and killed 5 officers of the law. The ascendant line at the horizon transitioning into the next sign qualifies the next sign to be the 4th seal which would thus allow the location of Mars above to be interpreted in the first seal.

These previous examples further affirm that an observation of Mars in the First seal locations, along with the moon within 30 degrees of the lunar node(when the Mars is elsewhere), is a feasible starting point for a goal of trying to pinpoint exactly where and when an event could take place before the fact by simply by looking at the chart. A study of this phenomenon would allow the parameters to be narrowed down to a working model that could serve a life saving purpose in real time. This type of discourse alone allows the human condition to develop a sense of urgency beforehand, as opposed to after the fact. It's an evolution of the human psyche. Culturally, under the flexible Hindu system, it would not take much for India to provide an example of how to apply these concepts in practice and real time; concepts which also allow room for flexibility.
